Carrie the 1 year old daughter of Henderson Wells was badly burned Wednesday morning with hot water about the face and breast. The mother was getting breakfast and the child came in to wash. She had just poured out a cup of boiling water when a younger brother threw his hands over his head, and knocked the cup of water on Carrie's face and breast scalding her very badly. The girl almost had spasms. Her clothes were torn off as quick as possible the steam boiling off her face and breast. The skin came in the child's breast and neck. She has been very bad but seems to be looking better now. The worst burn seems to be on her throat about the collar bone and on the right side of the chest which is very dangerous. The parents and family have our sympathies. Mrs. W. S. Vinson.

A very quiet and pretty wedding occurred at the home of H. Wells last Monday evening, Nov. 2nd, the parties being Mr. William Hugh Tomlinson and Miss Minnie Wells. The bride was the eldest and most attractive young daughter of Henderson Wells, and the groom a very popular young man whose parents now reside in Oklahoma. Mr. Tomlinson holds a government position and we understand he and Miss Wells met last winter while he was at work on the Tug locks. The groom is now at Cincinnati. They will not leave for their Southern home soon on account of Mr. Wells' illness. We wish this happy couple's life long and sunny, and fortune funny. A Friend.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreadful disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and restoring nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

World's Temperance Sunday

Sunday School Lesson for Nov. 24, 1907
Specially Prepared for This Paper

LESSON TEXT.—Romans 14:12-23. Memory verse, 17, 18. GOLDEN TEXT.—"Judge this rather, that no man put a stumbling-block or an occasion to fall in his brother's way."—Romans 14:13.

LIGHT FROM OTHER SCRIPTURES.—DRUNKENNESS.—Deut. 21:20, 21; Prov. 20:1; 23:33, 34; 31:4, 5; Isa. 5:11, 22; Hos. 4:11; Hab. 2:15; Matt. 24:49, 50; Luke 12:34; 1 Cor. 5:11; Gal. 5:21.

TEMPERANCE.—Rom. 13:12, 13. 1 Cor. 9:25-27; 1 Tim. 3:3, 4, 8; Tit. 2:12; 1 Pet. 4:7, 8; 2 Pet. 1:4.

The Principals Paul Laid Down for Our Guidance.—Vs. 12-23. The method of settlement is that employed all through the Bible, of laying down general principles, and not definite rules and commands. For the principles abide eternally, but the application of them varies continually. We have no trouble whatever about some of the questions which almost rent the ancient church asunder. They were settled long ago. But we must apply the same principles to our modern problems. The application of great divine principles to our daily lives in varying circumstances is a large part of the discipline by which we grow in grace and develop a strong and holy character.

First. The Law of Liberty.—V. 12; 1 Cor. 8:9, 10-12; Gal. 2:4.

V. 12. "So then." As a conclusion from what Paul had been saying. "Every one of us shall give account of himself to God." Each is responsible to God and must act as in his sight. No one can lord it over his brother in the Christian church. Each one must define his duty so far as concerns himself. Liberty does not prevent any one from holding decided opinions, and speaking of them, and arguing for them. Liberty is not indifference. Permitting liberty does not endorse all that is permitted.

Second.—Vs. 12, 22, 23. "The fullest freedom must be balanced by the fullest sense of responsibility to God."—Expositor's Greek Testament. "For we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ" (v. 10).

V. 22. "Hast thou faith?" Do you really believe that what you are doing is right and approved by God? "Have it to thyself before God." Rejoice in this liberty of yours in the presence of the Father. "We still keep this joy and strength of liberty even when for love's sake we forego the particular acts from which, if we considered only ourselves and God, we should not be debarred."—Lyman Abbott. "Happy is he that condemneth not himself," who is so convinced that his course is right that his conscience never condemns him, even when he sits alone with his conscience amid the manifestations of God's power.

V. 23. "He that doubteth." Is unsettled in his conscience as to what is right for himself. Abbott translates, "He that disputeth with himself." "Is damned," is condemned, the usual meaning of the Greek word. He has no right to do an act which he feels may injure others. "Whatsoever is not of faith is sin." "All that a man cannot do remembering that he is Christ's—all that he cannot do with the judgment seat (v. 10) and the cross (v. 15) and all their restraints and inspirations present to his mind—is sin."

Third. Toward such persons we are forbidden to have either a censorious or a contemptuous estimate of their character. V. 13. "Let us not therefore judge one another," not condemn those who honestly do not see things as we do. We must allow others the same liberty we ask for ourselves. Condemning as unchristian others who honestly differ from us may be quite as great a sin as that of the one condemned.

But Note (1) that this does not require one to refrain from arguing against any course as injurious. (2) That the principal does not mean that we should never do anything which others do not like, at which they take offense, or with which they find fault. Nor that in any case should we yield in a duty or a teaching, because some may stumble even over the truth. Even Christ could not so act that none took offense. Paul could not.

Fourth.—Vs. 13-16. V. 13. "But judge this rather." That is, turn your judgment to yourselves, and see to it that by your use of your liberty you do not cause others to fall into sin. We are never to give up our liberty of thought and action, but to use it in the right way, as in the verses that follow. "An occasion to fall." It is contrary to the very essence of the gospel to put a stumbling-block in the way of any, and especially of the weak and tempted.

V. 14. "I know, and am persuaded by," rather, as R. V., "in" "the Lord Jesus," abiding in his presence and filled with his spirit. In one case troubling the church Paul felt perfectly sure that he was right so far as his conscience was concerned.

Testimony of Business Men. "I think that this is the best time in the world for the best kind of boys." "Do employers take more account of the character and habits of the boys whom they employ than they used to?" "They certainly do, and this is specially true of the big corporations like the railroads."

"A watch is constantly kept on the boy, and if he is found smoking it counts against him; if he keeps late hours he is at a discount compared with the boy who goes to bed early; if he drinks or gambles it is fatal to him."
